VOL. VI.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1910.

No. 11

Tropico and Glendale are practically one community, joining Los Angeles City on the north, the former five and the latter six miles in a direct line from the Court House in Los Angeles. Glendale is an incorporated city of the sixth class with about 2700 population. Pacific Electric cars leave Sixth street depot half hourly. Eagle Rock cars leaving Twelfth and Broadway every half hour, connecting at Eagle Rock with car for Glendale. Rapidly increasing in population and importance. Schools, churches, fraternal societies, business establishments and all the accessories of an up-to-date suburban community.

JULY FOURTH

The Day Observed Generally, but Quietly The Seashore Drew the Greatest Crowd—Personal Mention

Independence Day certainly in few other places in the United States, could have been favored by such perfect weather as prevailed in this section. There was an unprecedented rush to seashore and mountains. Formal celebration of the day does not seem to have prevailed generally, but was taken advantage of for family picnics and "loafing at home" by one-half of the population. The streets of Glendale presented a quiet and half deserted appearance, but the street cars did a good business. Mr. Goode reports that his Glendale Eagle Rock line took in about 1800 fares, nearly half of them between Glendale and Verdugo Park on the new extension of his road. A fair sized crowd gathered in front of the Glendale Pharmacy during the early afternoon where a man from the second story announced the returns from Reno as they came in by telephone; the majority of the crowd turning dejectedly away when the result was announced, to seek surcease of their sorrow at the baseball ground, but here also fate was against them, for Glendale went down to defeat at the hands of the "Wielands" by a score of 7 to 2. During the evening there were many small displays of fireworks at various homes, but little to be heard or seen on the public streets.

A UNIQUE FOURTH OF JULY CHILDREN'S PARTY.

On July 4th, Mrs. V. Price Brown gave a party for her little six-year-old daughter, Dorothy. There were 24 little ones present. The dining room was decorated with flags. The table was also decorated with the national colors. The individual cakes each had a little silk flag. On the table were candy, crackers, red and white ice cream, candy boxes tied with red, white and blue. After the dinner they were shown two immense fire crackers, one for the boys and one for the girls which the children said should be fired on the street. They proved, however, to be great bags in perfect imitation of firecrackers, filled with gifts, and each gift decorated with red, white and blue. The children had a merry time, and will not forget the first "Sane Fourth."

Of the many picnic parties at Griffith Park on the glorious Fourth none were more jolly than that of the Thornycroft Club and guests. One member only was absent, Mr. Truitt, whose stage name is "Ikey." He was obliged to remain at home suffering with a severe attack of tonsillitis. Another member were a far-away, absent look until lunch was over. After lunch he looked absent, having faded. He reached the city in time to read the bulletins from Reno as they arrived. He is now a sadder, poorer but wiser man. The two tallest members scaled the rock. Songs, games and feasting made the day pass only too quickly.

The Baracca Philathea class and some of their friends were entertained July 4th at the home of Mr. P. F. Johnston, First and Orange streets. Tennis and croquet were two of the popular games that were indulged in. Winners at tennis were Miss Hazel Wood and Mr. Chas. A. Reed who divided the prize, a big box of chocolates, between them. In the evening the young folks walked to Verdugo Park and returning to San Neighbors on Orange street, again partook of refreshments and music.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blackburn spent the Fourth at the beaches.

Miss Winifred Saddle spent the Fourth at Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Clarence Newcomb, chaperoned a party of youngsters at Verdugo Park on the Fourth.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bartlett and their house guest, Miss Bacheller, spent the Fourth at Pomona.

The Thornycroft club had a hay ride to Griffith Park and luncheon under the trees, on the Fourth.

Mr. W. Coons, wife and daughter, from Long Beach, and B. F. Kearney, wife and daughter from Los Angeles, were among the party.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO MRS. M. L. ANDERSON.

Thursday morning of last week Mrs. M. L. Anderson, the florist, of East Sixth street, drove into Los Angeles to deliver flowers as she is accustomed to doing frequently. Shortly after her arrival in the city having left her house standing on the street she started to walk across Spring street near Second. The way seemed to be clear but she did not see an automobile a short distance ahead of her and approaching at a moderate rate of speed. The owner of the car, Dr. Wm. A. Edwards, of West Adams street, saw that she was going to be hit and in his excitement stood up and called to his chauffeur, but the car hit Mrs. Anderson, knocking her against the curb.

Dr. Edwards jumped off his machine and assisted her and was going to take her to a private hospital but at this time a policeman appeared and insisted that she should be taken to the receiving hospital. Dr. Edwards protested, but without effect and she was conveyed to the city's hospital. She was still unconscious when laid on the table for examination and was thought to be fatally injured. The spectators were astonished, however, when Mrs. Anderson came to her senses and immediately began to protest against further proceedings, insisting that she was able to drive home. Although seriously injured she insisted upon having the business attended to that brought her to the city, and Dr. Edwards undertook the various commissions which she dictated to him. A nephew, Mr. Jerry Anderson was sent for and the injured woman was put into her buggy and brought home by the young man. Mrs. Anderson has a bad cut on her ankle, an injured foot and some severe bruises, but is getting along fully as well as could be expected. Dr. Conrad of Tropico attended to her injuries in Los Angeles. Dr. Edwards has the lady's case under his own personal attention, but as he is to be absent in Mexico for the next week, Dr. R. E. Chase is attending to her injuries in the meantime. Dr. Edwards, who is brother-in-law to President Taft, has done everything possible for the unfortunate lady, who by the way, has several times before been the victim of serious accidents.

EXTENDED TO VERDUGO PARK

First Train Passed Over New Railroad on Sunday—Glendale Now Has an Accessible Picnic Ground—Goode Makes Good

Mr. John A. Piffle, owner of the Verdugo Canon tract, and Mr. Edgar Harriman Goode, promoter and railroad builder, promised a month ago that they would have the electric railroad extended to Verdugo Park by July 4th, but there were so many obstacles to be overcome in regard to the right of way and the opposition of the Salt Lake Railroad company that it looked very dubious for several days during the last of June. However, by persistent effort everything was straightened out and on Sunday evening, July 3rd, a party of about forty invited guests, boarded the first car bound for the park at 5:30 p. m. and were up there about twenty minutes later. At that time the track was completed except for some small details, up to the new bridge at the south end of the boulevard which extends through the tract. Work is still being pushed through the property and according to contract must be at the north line of the ranch, about a half mile above the old ranch house, by August 1st. It will then be within about two miles of Crescenta and it is probable that the people of that section will make a serious effort to have it built up to their town. Even should it go no further than the ranch line, it will still be of great benefit to the people of that section as it practically puts them two miles nearer to the center of things. Among the passengers on the first car were a few citizens of Glendale who had never been to Verdugo Park and the sight of that attractive piece of wilderness, the running stream, the alder and sycamore trees, the wild grapevines and the climatic, the deep attractive shade from sun and sun—were in the nature of a revelation. Now with the railroad in running operation, a recent car fare from either terminus, at Eagle Rock or Fourth and Brand, Glendale, has caused to be thankful that even if we own no park of our own, we have the next best thing, the most attractive small park in the vicinity of Los Angeles, attainable by a ten minute ride from the center of town.

On July 4th, the first working day for the new extension, there were about a thousand people carried to the park, many of the people of Glendale taking advantage of the opportunity to see the park for the first time, and there being many visitors from Los Angeles and other outside points. The road is an additional valuable asset for Glendale and vicinity and Messrs. Piffle and Goode deserve the appreciation of our people for having built it.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

A meeting of the congregation is called for Wednesday evening, July 13th, to consider matters connected with the building of the new church.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Services as usual both morning and evening. Preaching by Rev. J. W. Utter at both services. Our services will be brief during the summer months. We invite you to come.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Sunday, July 10—Service, 11 a. m.; morning prayer and sermon, Rev. A. G. L. Trew. Subject: "Christ in the Old Testament." Everyone cordially invited. No evening service.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Services as usual next Sunday. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. by Rev. A. R. Petty. Last Sunday was a helpful day to all who heard Mr. Petty's sermons, while he could be termed a boy preacher. Nevertheless the sermons are interesting and good. Come and hear him.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

Dr. Spangler will preach Sunday morning. No evening service on account of the union meeting with the Presbyterians. The pastor of the Methodist church will preach during August and Dr. Ward at the Methodist church during August. The subjects during July will be "Some Modern Evils and Is the World Growing Better?"

Epworth League business meeting Tuesday night.

W. F. M. S. will meet Thursday.

The official board has granted the pastor a vacation during August.

HONORS CONFERRED BY THE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Not of the least importance in the large membership of the Tuesday Afternoon Club are its four gentlemen honorary members, who modestly, as behooves them, in view of their minority keep in the background ordinarily but are expected to appear on special gala occasions to participate in uplifting emanations from the intellects of both the fair and the brave, besides occasional more practical pleasures of the palate, without membership fee or other expense. At present the number possible to admit at any annual meeting to honorary life membership in recognition of distinguished merit is limited to two.

The incorporation of the Tuesday Afternoon Club in November 1908 marked the beginning of a wider field of usefulness for this already influential body which showed its appreciation of the services rendered without charge by Mr. Edgar Leavitt in securing the charter, by making this gentleman its first honorary member.

Captain J. M. Wells, the second honorary member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, was endorsed at the recent annual meeting as follows:

Whereas, Capt. J. M. Wells, an honorary member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, Cal., has, through heroic deeds and intellectual ability achieved distinction in state and nation, and

Whereas, The services of Capt. Wells as an intensely interesting speaker, especially in his thrilling lecture, "From Libby to Liberty," have been found of value to the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Therefore, Resolved, That the Tuesday Afternoon Club heartily endorses Capt. Wells and commends him to the favorable consideration of any organization desiring to replenish its treasury and at the same time enjoy a most excellent lecture.

At the recent annual meeting two names were proposed for honorary membership as follows:

Whereas, Mr. E. D. Goode has through indomitable energy, unbounded enthusiasm and supreme faith overcome obstacles, impediments and discouragements in the construction of the Glendale and Eagle Rock railway, Therefore, Resolved, That the Tuesday Afternoon Club, in recognition of the splendid spirit manifest by Mr. Goode and the great advantage accruing to this vicinity from the construction do constitute this gentleman an honorary member of the club.

Whereas, Mr. Eugene Frank has by talent and accomplishment in the field of art become recognized as an artist of unusual ability, and

Whereas, The desirability of such a person in our community is appreciated;

Therefore, Resolved, That the Tuesday Afternoon Club does hereby express due appreciation by electing Mr. Frank an honorary member of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

As is well known Mr. Frank is an artist of international reputation, having prominently exhibited in Paris, London, Munich, Karlsruhe, New York, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles and other cities. Mr. Frank's paintings have been viewed by thousands at the Academy of Design and Metropolitan Art Museum, New York, and in Chicago at the Art Institute and the Art Palace during the World's Columbian exposition. Perhaps his most highly prized medal is that awarded him at the world's international exposition at Paris in 1900.

It will pay you to trade at Valley Supply Co. 308 Brand Boulevard because full weight is guaranteed and quality is assured.

ICE grain, hay, wood, coal, poultry supplies, stock food, etc. Phones, Sunset 1811, Home 192.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC PUTTING IN CURBS.

The Pacific Electric Company is putting in curbs along both sides of its right of way from San Fernando Road to Tropico avenue, two or three cross streets in that section being closed thereby. Presumably the work will continue to the Glendale city limits; if so, several cross streets will be closed.

SPORTING NEWS.

Saturday last the Union Hardware and Metal Company nine beat Glendale by a score of four to one. On July 4th the Wielands did the same, only more so, 7 to 2. Tomorrow (Saturday) the home team meets the Y. M. C. A. nine on the grounds at Fifth and Glendale. Turn out and boost; encourage the boys by your presence.

THE WEATHER.

Tuesday and Wednesday the thermometer indicated a temperature above 90 during the warmest part of the day, even the century mark being reported as touched in some sections.

CITY TRUSTEES

Fourth Street Between Adams and Verdugo Road to be Improved—Improvement of Central Avenue to be Taken Up with Highway Commission

All present except Mr. White, Trustee Watson acting as president pro tem.

The usual grist of demands was put through. Bids for fire hose and reel were opened and referred to the finance committee to report on at the next meeting. The public works committee recommended that a fire plug be placed on Second street between Sinclair avenue and Verdugo Road provided that the local water company agrees to furnish water for fire purposes free of cost.

A fire plug was also ordered to be placed on Fourth street between Mary and Louise.

The June report of the city marshal was referred to police committee. Reports were received from the city recorder and building inspector. The city engineer was authorized to take up the matter of the improvement of Central avenue with the highway commission and inform that body that the city of Glendale will call a special election on the question of deeding the county that part of Central avenue west of the easterly curb line now within the city limits if necessary.

The police commission recommended that the report of the city marshal for June be received and filed and it was done. It was ordered that a daily itemized report be furnished monthly by each city department. The action of the board at last meeting in requiring a bond from Special Police Officer Everett was rescinded. The city engineer was instructed to furnish an estimate of the cost of improving Fourth street between Adams street and Verdugo Road. A resolution of intention in regard to the improvement of Fourth street was adopted. The clerk was instructed to procure a letter of thanks to the city hall and Beach for invitation received by trustees to attend banquet there July 4th.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

Building Inspector's Report for June.

The report shows the largest number of permits ever issued in any one month, with receipts for fees amounting to $217.26, which, the salary of the inspector being only $90, makes this a paying office to the municipality. Most of the permits, however, were for gas. The total value represented by the building permits was $16,450 mostly for small structures.

Mrs. D. R. Knight has been granted a permit for the erection of a seven-room story and half house at 216 East First street, by day work, estimated cost $2000.

Mrs. A. R. McGee, 423 Isabel St., permit for a six-room cottage, modern throughout, to cost $2000.

Paul V. Tuttle, 1110 Fourth St., has prepared plans for a 6-room frame bungalow for William Harrell; cobblestone foundation, O. P. trim, 1 bath, lavatories, etc.; electric wiring; probably day work; $1900.

E. U. Emery, owner; Paul V. Tuttle, designer, Glendale; Anderson & Murdoch, contractors; 2-story 9-room residence, Livingston Tract, Glendale.

Mrs. Mary Reidy has sold her home on Second street east of Adams, to N. W. Terrill. Mrs. Reidy and daughter will leave for the state of Washington in a few days.

Mr. Orlando Waite has bought a lot on Second street east of Adams in the Hannover tract and is putting up a small cottage for a home.

IN OUR POLICE COURT.

M. P. Peterson is sued by J. E. Andrews for breach of contract, fifty dollars in damages being claimed. According to Andrews' statements he agreed to pay Peterson two cents a pound for 61 boxes of lemons, but the latter refused to deliver the goods because somebody else offered him more money. An attachment was issued and the goods being sold to a Los Angeles dealer were taken charge of by Marshal Miller who sold them at public sale on Tuesday afternoon for 2 1/2 cents a pound. The marshal now thinks himself an auctioneer and Andy Stephenson must look to his laurels. The case will be tried this afternoon.

GLENDALE, CAL., JULY 8, 1910

Mayor Alexander calls upon the city council to frame an ordinance that will prohibit prize fights in the city of Los Angeles. District Attorney Fredericks should now see to it that the state law is enforced and that there shall be no more contests "to the finish" in his jurisdiction.

Mr. W. F. Axtman has retired from the editorial chair of the South Pasadena Record. During the year and a half that he has been connected with the paper, it has moved up into the front rank among suburban publications and reflects great credit upon its management. Mr. Axtman does not announce his plans for the future, but it is unlikely that his talent for journalistic work will be allowed to get rusty.

The Fourth of July just passed was a reasonably sane one, a great improvement upon its predecessors and gives promise of a comparative absence of unseemly racket in the future. It is doubtful also if the small boy did not get just as much enjoyment out of it as usual and it is a pretty sure thing that fewer of the apes than usual are today celebrating in the hospital the right to maim themselves and call it sport.

A friend supplies us with two copies of the SEUL PRESS, "the only English newspaper published in Korea," as the title page informs us. It is a four-page sheet of the size of a newspaper and appears to be prospering. Its numerous advertisements are particularly being liberal as to space. The PRESS favors the Japanese government and thinks its control of affairs in Korea is statesmanlike and for the best interests of that country.

We are in hearty sympathy with the views expressed by our correspondent in another column on the question of consolidating Glendale, Tropic and West Glendale into one municipality. There will be a natural opposition to the project in some localities, but we believe it will weaken as the matter is discussed and considered. Consolidation is the spirit of the age. It is in the air and we cannot avoid imbibing it with every breath. Nature evidently intended this community to be one and it is useless to fight against destiny.

In a recent issue of a popular weekly, we find the two following "gems" of English as they are culled from a prize essay:
"The simplicity and sincerity makes me, who never enters a church in her city home, unconvinced as may be, etc." and this "To watch God unfold itself in flower and leaf." In the first place what authority can be found in the grammars for this kind of a transition from the first to the third person, and in the next why honor the deity with the capital "G." merely to refer to Him as "it"?

"But for the young, to whom life should be earnest endeavor, the first great lesson is to learn what to get along without, what is essential, what is luxury, and how to manage the dividing line between them."

"There has been no other age of the world that has offered to young men and women so much that is unessential, but which is forced upon them by a common practice of indulgence and extravagance and is made a measure of power. To resist all of this and bide one's time is the test of the strength of the character and the key to usefulness."

We are in receipt of a pamphlet from the Local Option Press Bureau, in Los Angeles, calling attention to the limitations of popular government in California, owing to the nature of the state laws. It is only in cities having a freeholders' charter that the liquor question can be submitted to a vote of the people, if the governing body does not wish to call an election for that purpose. The right to legislate belonging solely to the supervisors, trustees or other body in power. San Luis Obispo county is pointed to as an example of this limitation. Four years ago the people voted by a large majority to exclude the saloons, but they still continue to do business there.

We differ with many of our friends who believe that there is virtue in prohibitory laws, but we do not hesitate to say that on this or any other question the people have a right to be heard and that the majority must rule. It should not be impossible for the people to get this question or any other submitted to a vote when any considerable portion of them desire it, and the laws should be amended by our next legislature so as to permit of it.

LEMON GROWERS FAVORED.

Our lemon growers are to be congratulated upon the decision of the interstate commerce commission which prevents the railroads from taking from them 15 cents of the 50-cent increase in duty imposed for their benefit by congress. But the orange growers are not to get any reduction of the $1.15 rate, notwithstanding the fact that they are much more in need of it. As to the ultimate benefit which the lemon growers will receive, that remains to be seen. Speaking on general principles it may be said that no industry can be a success which depends solely upon tariff protection. A few of them may be bolstered up for awhile but will finally fall down to the dead level of their intrinsic merits. We have maintained all along that the increase in the tariff is of doubtful value to lemon growers; it can only benefit them at the expense of the consumer by raising the price and a general increase in prices means additional planting of orchards and increased production. It will be in the future as it has been in the past, the grower who puts intelligence and industry into the business and has fairly good luck will succeed while plenty of his neighbors will fail. It will be a mistake to set out additional lemon orchards on the strength of the increase in the import duty, the grower who could not succeed before, cannot do it now.

A NEW PARTY?

The daily papers inform us that a new party was launched in Los Angeles the other day. The account of the launching is singularly free of details, but the resolution or preamble is of interest: "Resolved, That 'we, the workers,' in mass meeting assembled, do hereby organize a political party for the purpose of assuming the powers of government and protecting the interests of the working class and preserving and promoting the welfare of the community in general."

The charming candor of this preamble appeals to us, "We, the workers," sounds excellently well; the modesty of it is suggestive of a high sense of responsibility. It reminds one of the three tailors of Thread-needle street who issued a proclamation beginning, "We the people of London." But history fails to record anything further of the three tailors, and the chances certainly favor the probability that "We the Workers" will similarly lapse into obscurity, for such is the ungratefulness of republics. The launchers of this party are willing to "assume the powers of government," for which willingness let us fervently hope a grateful world will quickly show its appreciation—there is such a dearth of patriots who are willing to assume the powers of government (hold the offices) in this era of direct primaries and automatic moral and political machinery, that when a group of citizens is found who are willing to fill the high places and incidentally accept the emoluments attached thereto, they ought to be encouraged lest we be left without anybody who is willing to run the old world at all! After expressing modestly their willingness to accept this responsibility, they kindly disclose their object which is to protect the interests of the working class. This is kindness indeed to the working class, which class we fancy is considerably more numerous than our patriotic friends of the willing heart and heavy hand are conscious of. Some of our friends who are so solicitous as to the welfare of the "working class," it seems to us, blithely assume too much. The "working class" with them means the "horny-handed" only, and but a particular few of even that class. Should any party come into existence really devoted to the interests of this class and capable of drawing to it all who really and honestly toil, it would be vastly interesting to note not only the innumerable throng that would follow its banner, but the diversity of the fields of usefulness from which they would be gleaned. It would certainly prove a revelation to those would-be leaders of the toilers who lay to themselves the flattering notion that the comparatively few whom they term the "workers," constitute the really essential factors in the world's work. It is cheering to note that after the "workers" have been provided for, the "welfare of the community in general" will be looked after. This gives us encouragement, and shows that as an afterthought the general community is to be taken care of. The birth of a new party is always a joyful event and the unselfishness of the dry nurses of this one appeals to us in a most appealing way.

"THE FIGHT OF THE CENTURY."

The prize fight which took place at Reno, Nev., on Monday is deserving of more than passing notice for more than one reason, but chiefly perhaps because it probably marks the beginning of the end of a "sport" which is too demoralizing in its effect to be much longer permitted by our civilization. The contests themselves are not usually very serious matters to the principals as far as punishment is concerned, for it is rarely that either of the fighters is seriously injured. But all the circumstances preceding and attending the contest are demoralizing in a superlative degree. The fighters themselves are usually in a class mutually and morally superior to a very large portion of their associates. This was not so once so in the early days of the game, but recent champions and near champions have been and are, usually, men of fair education and mental ability. Some of them at least in other "professions" would pass for gentlemen. One cannot if he endeavors to be fair in his judgment, judge harshly the man, who like Jeffries, yields to the temptation that comes to him through the strength that runs riotously through muscle and sinew and the knowledge that he has the skill to use it. Candidly, which of us would not be willing to leave the honest trade of the boiler maker for the four ounce gloves and the roped-in arena, if we felt assured that our strength was greater and our skill superior to that of any other man in the world? The poet assures us that "all the world loves a lover." But it is equally true that all the world loves a fighter, conceal it how we may! In the blood of the tenderest hearted man or woman in our midst, reveals the red corpuscle bequeathed to us by the ancestry that lived by battle in the days when the world was young! But this good red blood, fortunately, for our twentieth century civilization, is not universally stirred to action by the contests in the prize ring. Fortunately the most of us do not make heroes of the men who fight for money; we want to have the excuse at least that a principle is involved and in any contest our sympathies naturally run out to one of the two who are struggling for supremacy. If we have learned any one thing about the mysterious human life of ours by the history of the generations that have preceded us and by the study of our fellow men and the relation of cause and effect, it is this—that everything that exists has its use, if the purpose be nothing more than to give us something to fight against. Prizefights have not been altogether in vain, for they have demonstrated the possibilities of the human physical machine. Thousands of human beings lingering on the stage of life with frail and diseased bodies, made so through abuse and disease, can well learn by the example of the prize fighters that health and strength can be acquired by work and self-denial. The training of the prize fighter in preparation for the contest covers many weeks of rigid self-denial and hard work and it always brings the desired result. Is there any other such curative and upbuilding agency in the world for the physical body, from Christian Science to Muldoon's farm? If only a small portion of the physically poor creatures of the world might be assured of the possibilities of the rigid regime and strenuous exercise which is practiced in the prize fighter's training camp, the game might furnish an excuse for its existence. But it must go, it ought to go. It is not uplifting to witness the efforts of two men to knock each other into a state of insensibility, nor is it desirable from any standpoint that the youth of the land should make a hero of some husky human battling for the sordid dollars.

It is illogical to draw fine distinctions between the color of the two men in the recent fight. Time never was when the Anglo Saxon monopolized all the fighting spirit of the human race. The victory of Johnson does not mean that he won because he is an African, although there are many who if Jeffries had been the victor, would have insisted that it was a triumph for the Caucasian. As between the two races the battle proved nothing, and perhaps in that fact may be found by the inquiring moralist another proof that it was not fought in vain.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the residence of Mrs. Musser on the Wing ranch, West Sixth street, on Friday, July 15th, at 2:30 p. m. Subject, "Parenthood and its Responsibilities." Mrs. Musser, leader. Members to respond at roll call with items from state paper. This is a mother's meeting and all are urged to attend.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

Since public sentiment is growing so strong in favor of the consolidation of Tropic, North Glendale, West Glendale and Valley View, with Glendale, it is wise that residents of those districts should know the benefits they will obtain by such action.

Advantages to be gained are so many that they nearly bewilder one who tries to set them forth concisely, but probably the greatest, as it is an epitome of all, is that they then would be residents of a fifth class city and legitimately empowered to aid themselves financially by the correct use of municipal rights.

A fifth class city can regulate its light, power and water rates. It would be empowered by such a charter to govern itself in those respects just as other cities of that class are doing.

Districts which are contemplating consolidation with Glendale will assume no past debts incurred by that city.

Bonds for electric lights were voted about a year ago. Out of the profits in one year there has been enough to meet the bond payment, pay the interest and do the same for the coming year. The plan is to increase the lighting system through the district.

Municipal ownership has proved such a success that it is desired to develop the roads, a plan which depends only upon consolidation for execution.

Glendale at present is a city of the sixth class. With consolidation and the accompanying population of 10,000 and its incorporation as a city of the fifth class, it will be able to give genuine police and fire protection to all of its environs. Its parkways and streets will receive special attention and each section will be accorded its rightful representation in its city government.

The Glendale and Vicinity Improvement association will hold a meeting in the Grand Army hall in Tropic on Thursday, July 14, at 8 o'clock. The purpose being to enroll new members in that locality; to get acquainted and to talk over the advisability of consolidation.

To the Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

To say that the city of Long Beach did herself proud in entertaining the officials of the Southern California cities on the Fourth is putting it mildly. Of course those who spent the whole day at the beach or went the night before, got more than we did, but we certainly had a good time and lots of good things to eat.

Perhaps roast turkey and cranberry sauce sounds a little out of season but to us who do not always have turkey even in season it tasted mighty good and we were just as thankful. Some of our party tried to fill up for a week but we found we had to get breakfast Tuesday morning as usual. It was a fine dinner and beautifully served, and the big dining room at the Virginia was every inch used. After dinner we listened to speeches by many representative citizens, some of them were, Mayor Alexander of Los Angeles; Rev. Dana Bartlett of Los Angeles; the mayors of San Bernardino, San Diego, Riverside, the city attorney of Whittier, a really truly "booster" from Pomona, and others. No one from Glendale (in the party) dared get on his feet in such a crowd of speech makers, so we just tried to remember and bring home ideas and some of those may be made known later on.

We watched the dancing in the ball room, listened to the dreamy strains of the Merry Widow Waltz and took notes on the beautiful gowns. We just caught the "hobo" car home but there were only a few of those people on board. They had been down to Los Angeles to find out about that fight over at Reno. Now some of us have been standing over the fire since the Fourth putting up fruit, and the memory of that afternoon on the lovely verandas of the Virginia, watching the big waves that washed up over the sidewalks and into the Pike and took out part of the municipal pier. The cool breeze and the elegance of the great hotel are a constant delight.

Some of us wondered how Glendale could repay her indebtedness to Long Beach. We certainly could not hand them a wooden plate of barbecue meat, but they have the Virginia all the time and there is Casa Verdugo and Verdugo Park, perhaps either would look good to them.

It is to be regretted that all the Glendale trustees and their wives could not have enjoyed the afternoon. Those of the party were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Banker, City Attorney and Mrs. Baker, Mr. Harry Lynch, City Electrician and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Church.

You see we could not spend the whole day down there for there were things doing at home. By the way, how about that committee that was to arrange for the valley picnic? Verdugo Park was there and the way to get there was provided, thanks to our persistent townsman, Mr. E. D. Goode. Well, the ice cream man was there and a lot of people and we had a nice ride on the new car line, not the first, for that happened Sunday evening, and we were glad we went.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The condition of the real estate market continues to be all that can be reasonably expected now that people are beginning to carry out their plans for summer vacations. Sub-divisions continue to be made. Mr. F. H. Merrill in Sycamore Canyon has sold one acre and is dividing the remainder of his acreage into small tracts.

The Occidental college people have let the contract for the road around the campus in Eagle Rock and there will be a continuance of the improved road from there around the hills to the Edwards and Wilsey tract just east of Glendale city limits. The highway commission has almost completed the grading of the highway from the Eagle Rock to Glendale, and although they made a mistake in establishing the grade it is hoped that the error will not result in much delay to the work. The contract for the improvement of San Fernando road from Los Angeles to Burbank has been let and preliminary work is being done by the surveyors in setting stakes for the contractor. Mr. F. R. Sinclair has been awarded the contract for the street work in Richardson's subdivision at Tropic, and will start on it at once. Maps are proceeding satisfactorily in this subdivision, at last reports aggregating about $6000. There will be a street opened parallel with the San Fernando road between that thoroughfare and the S. P. track, to be called Los Angeles avenue. The former Depot street is now called Cerritos avenue.

Messrs. Dell and Elliott on Louise street have agreed to each give the half of a road to run easterly from Louise street north of Doran.

Allen C. Ady has sold for Miss Monroe, to Christian Nyby, a lot located on the west side of Mary street north of Doran. Consideration $525. Mr. Nyby will build a home on it at once.

Mr. A. Varney has sold for Mr. Wright, lot four, block one, Glendale Orange Grove Tract, to Mr. Stoffel, who will build on it at once.

Mr. L. Fitzjarrell has taken out a permit for a $2000 residence to be built on Orange street between Second and Third streets.

One permits taken out up to date number about 250, of which 120 have been taken out this month up to date.

report the following sales: Lot 15, block 2, Ward's subdivision, to J. W. Barnes and D. A. Lane. The new owners will build. Lots 11 and 12, block 6, Glendale boulevard tract, opposite the Country Club house, to Mary A. Moffatt of Hermosa Beach. Lot 18, block 5, on Isabelle street near Third, to Mary E. Hara, who will build. Lot 1, block 47, corner Second and Kenwood street, to M. L. Weaver; the new owner to build.

Lot 6 in the Eilers tract on Adams street, to John N. Murray, for $750. Mr. Murray will build a home soon. Lot on Jackson street between Second and Third to local party for $600. Lot 28, block 6, in the boulevard tract on Orange street, to Mrs. W. W. Hartt, who will build soon.

Frank J. Bates has sold his home on West Fifth street to Franklin C. Glace of Burbank, and has gone to Los Angeles. Mr. Glace and family have already taken possession of their new home.

F. Mackey of 1522 West Fifth street is transforming his single-story home into a 2-story dwelling.

O. W. Odell is finishing three houses on Louise street south of Dryden. He has sold two houses the past week on Dryden street and families new to the neighborhood will move in at once, one coming from Los Angeles, the other from Northern California.

He is also building for R. M. McGee the dry goods man, a $3000 residence on Isabel street near Fourth.

Mr. E. B. Riggs has purchased from the Jona estate the lot at the northeast corner of Fourth and Adams streets.

O. C. Logan, owner, Glendale; Associated Realty Co., contractor, Glendale; 1-story, 5-room residence, 340 Orange street; $2200.

H. Edgar Fry has purchased two lots on Park avenue, Ayers tract, Tropic, where he will erect a 1½-story, 7-room frame residence; estimated cost, $3500.

Charles A. Lawson are building for Alexander Mitchell a 6-room frame bungalow on Louise street; $3000. Also a house on Arden avenue between Brand boulevard and Central avenue for Ethel F. Harris; $2500.

Bungalow—Mrs. Sallie Braden, owner; Roy L. Kent, designer, Glendale; Chas. W. Kent & Son, contractor, on or before August 9, 1-story, 6-room frame bungalow, lot 22, Glendale Mountain View tract (Arden avenue); $1975. Bungalow—Roy D. King, owner; C. B. Cunningham, contractor, Glendale; on or before July 31, 1-story, 5-room frame bungalow, lot 21, block 4, city of Glendale; $3000.

ANIMALS AND FOLKS.

It Pays to Be Humane.

Every city, village and country town should be liberally supplied with drinking fountains for animals, and they should be so constructed that even the smallest dog can drink from them. The person who provides a fountain at which man and beast can drink pure water, is truly a public benefactor.

Hydrophobia is unknown where dogs can drink when they wish. Provide water, not muzzles. Muzzles prevent dogs from drinking, and thus may cause the very disease that all wish to prevent. Dogs do not perspire through their skin as other animals do, but you may often see the perspiration dripping from their tongues. They need to drink often. A dog should never be muzzled so that he cannot drink, or put out his tongue as he naturally would in hot weather.

A dark stable injures the eyes of horses. Horses kept in dark stables often shy because their defective eyes make them afraid.

The milk of a frightened or abused cow is dangerous.

The toad is a good friend to the farmer, gardener and fruit-grower. It is estimated that a good-sized toad will destroy 10,000 insects and worms in a single summer. No child should be permitted to injure a toad. Gardeners in France buy toads for their gardens.

Those who enjoy going to the circus or menagerie, or to any show of wild animals, ought to consider how they would like to be shut up as prisoners all their lives, and forced to do unnatural tricks. Some animal trainers try to make the public believe that tricks are taught by kindness and that the animals are comfortable and happy; but persons not in the business who have had an opportunity to watch trained animals behind the scenes say that there is a great deal of suffering among them. The animals are trained by punishments and fear.

Witnessed vice makes us vicious. Witnessed cruelty makes us cruel. Humane societies drive cruel sights from our streets; provide the means to put to death—without pain—old, sick, or wounded animals. Thus the humane society becomes the parent's helper, the teacher's ally, a purveyor of society, and an educator of youth in the principles which insure good citizenship and good government.

A Diplomatic Official.

During the reign of Emperor Napoleon III, he and the empress visited Normandy and had arranged to spend a couple of days at Evreux. M. Janvier de la Monte, who was the prefect, learned that the revolutionaries intended to hiss the sovereigns as they passed, and so he summoned the leaders of the movement and told them that he knew of their plot. "If you carry out your plan," said he to them, "you will get six months in prison. If you do not your friends will accuse you of cowardice and treason. As a way out of the difficulty I propose to lock you up at once until the emperor has gone." The conspirators accepted the terms offered them, and so the emperor was greeted only by cheers, and the revolutionaries, frightened at the arrest of their chiefs, had not dared utter a sound. After the emperor and empress had gone the prefect went in person to release his prisoners, who had had such a pleasant time that they greeted him with cries of "Long live the prefect!" to which M. Janvier de la Monte, who was a man of wit, replied, "My friends, do not overdo it."

Settling a Matrimonial Dispute.

Mme. Sada Yacco, the famous Japanese actress, who had been a friend of the assassinated Prince Ito from her childhood, told the following amusing anecdote:

"In my frequent quarrels with my husband we sometimes asked Prince Ito to judge between us. One day when we had had a more-than-usually violent dispute at Chigasaki the prince came in unexpectedly, and I asked him to decide the question. But he declined, while proposing the following solution:

"Go down into the garden, both of you, and fight it out like sumo tori (wrestlers). The one that wins will naturally be the one who is in the right."

"No sooner said than done! In a trice Kawakami and I were in wrestling trim. By good luck my husband was just recovering from a serious illness, and as he was very weak I soon threw him to the ground. This amused the prince enormously, who, of course, had foreseen the end of the unequal match."

Cemeteries Where Women Gossip.

Friday, the Sabbath of the Moslems, when all true believers of the masculine gender make a point of going to church, their wives, sisters and daughters resort to the cemeteries and wall for the dead. But all their time is not spent in weeping, and sorrow is not the only emotion they display, on these occasions. They take with them bunches and garlands of flowers and decorate the graves of their relatives and pray and weep over the dead for a time. Then when this pious duty is performed they gather in little groups and have a good time gossiping about the living. Thus the day of mourning is very popular among the Moslem women. It gives them almost the only opportunity they have of cultivating the acquaintance of their neighbors.

Got Another Copy.

A well dressed man was standing outside a bookseller's shop in Charing Cross road closely examining one of Balzac's works. Illustrated by Gustave Dore. "How much is this Balzac?" he asked an assistant outside.

"Twenty-five shillings," was the reply.

"Oh, that's far too much. I must see the manager about a reduction," continued the prospective customer, and, waiting the action to the word, he took up the book and went into the shop.

Approaching the bookseller, he took the book from under his arm and asked what he would give for it. "Seven shillings highest offer," he was told.

The offer was accepted, the man took his money and left.

"Well," queried the assistant later, after the man had gone, "were you able to hit it off with the gentleman, sir?"

"Oh, yes. I managed to get another copy of that edition of Balzac for 7 shillings."

Then the bookseller went out to lodge a complaint with the police.—London Telegraph.

A Victim of Leprosy.

"On my travels in Venezuela," said a New York man, "I stayed in a hotel with a young man in whose family there was the taint of leprosy, though he apparently did not have it. One night sitting at dinner he became angry at a waiter and brought his hand down on the table with full force. He instantly realized that he did not feel the blow and sat looking at his hand, his face whitening with horror. 'Give me your knife, Bob,' he said to his chum. He grabbed the pocketknife in a frenzy and stabbed the side of his hand with vicious cuts from finger tip to wrist. You may not know that leprosy appears in the side of the hand numbness being a sign. The man did not feel the cuts. He arose from the table, knocking over his chair, rushed out into the courtyard of the hotel, and we heard the quick tang of a revolver shot, telling us how he had conquered the leper's curse by ending his life."—New York Times.

He Could Wield an Ax.

The skill of the old Maine shipbuilders in the use of the adz and broadax was wonderful. One old time yarn is of a carpenter who applied very drunk at a shipyard for employment. In order to have a little fun with him the foreman set him to give a proof of his skill by hewing out a wooden bolt with no chopping block but a stone. The carpenter accomplished his difficult task without marring the keen edge of the broad ax and showed the foreman a neatly made bolt. Then he brought the ax down with a terrific blow that shattered its edge upon the stone. "I can hew fast rate on your chopping block," he blurted out, "but I'll be damned if I can make the ax stick in it when I git through." The story runs that the foreman lost no time in employing such a workman.

Judge's Wig.

The wig is only worn by English barristers to give them a stern, judicial appearance, and no one can say that it falls in this respect. The custom was originated by a French judge in the seventeenth century when, happening to don a marquis' wig one day, he found it gave him such a stern and dignified appearance that he decided to get one for himself and wear it at all times in court. This he did, and the result was so satisfactory from a legal point of view that not only judges, but barristers also, took up the custom throughout Europe.—London Graphic.

Acquitted.

"Sir," said the young woman, with what seemed to be indignation. The young man looked embarrassed. "Yes, I did kiss you," he admitted, "but I was impulsively insane." "That means that a man would be a lunatic to kiss me?" "Well, any man of discretion would be just crazy to kiss you." This seemed to end the strain, and no jury being present to muddle affairs, a satisfactory verdict was reached.

Suspicious Routine.

Good Man—Ah, my poor fellow, I feel sorry for you! Why don't you work? When I was young, for two years I was never in bed after 5—an hour's work before breakfast, then four hours' work, then dinner, then four hours' more work, then supper, then bed, then up again at 5 the next morning—

Loafer—I say, guv'nor, where did ye serve yer time? San Quentin or Folsom?—San Francisco Star.

Not More Talk.

"I cannot live but a week longer without you." "Foolish talk, duke. How can you fix on a specific length of time?" "Ze landlord fix on it, miss, not I."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Easily Convinced.

Would Be Contributor (at editor's desk)—Here's a joke, Mr. Editor, that I'll guarantee was never in print before. Editor (after reading it)—Don't doubt your word in the least, sir.—London Tit-Bits.

The Outfit.

Physiology Teacher—Clarence, you may explain how we hear things. Clarence—Pa tells 'em to us as a secret, and the gives 'em away at the bridge club.—Cleveland Leader.

His Question.

Edgar, aged six, was recently sent to school for the first time, and upon his return home he asked, "Papa, who taught Adam the alphabet?"

XIII.—Washing Day Made Easy.

By EDITH G. CHARLTON,
In Charge of Domestic Economy, Iowa
State College.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

BLUE Monday might lose some of its terror for the average family if the weekly washing were changed to some other day. Steam laden rooms, odor of boiling suds, an untidy house from kitchen to attic and "pickup" meals all day, combined with the accumulation of duties and cares since Saturday, make Monday a disagreeable day for every one. Whoever established the custom of setting Monday aside for a "wash day" made life just a little harder than necessary in scores of homes. And yet so firmly established has the custom become that it takes genuine courage to break away from it and wash on Tuesday instead. When you think about it, how much more suitable Tuesday is for the work than Monday, which, following a day of rest, finds the whole house more or less disarranged!

It is rarely possible and sometimes quite unwise to attempt to outline any housekeeper's work for her. One must know conditions and be familiar with the life of the family before being really competent to arrange the routine of domestic affairs. But for the benefit of the woman who has everything to do for her family and who perhaps is not wholly satisfied with her present plan let me present this program for at least Monday and Tuesday:

Monday.—Put the house in order. Plan the meals for Tuesday and do extra baking for that day. Get the laundry ready for washing. That means look over the soiled clothing and do the necessary mending. Tears and broken seams increase in washing. Take out stains. It is much easier to do this before washing than after, and there is more time the day before than when the washing is in process. Soak soiled clothes. See that tubs and other things are ready for an early start; also be sure that soap, bluing and other supplies are on hand.

Tuesday.—The special work for this day will be the washing, but it should not be carried on to the complete disarrangement of the family life. Good, substantial meals should be served promptly, as on other days, and the wife and mother should not be so enslaved by the wash tub and wringer that she has no thought or attention for husband and children. There is no reason why she should be if the washing has not beyond all reason piled up her work so that it requires almost superhuman effort to accomplish it. While preparing breakfast the laundry fire may be started and the water heated. After breakfast and after the dining table has been cleared the washing can be commenced, and if it is performed in an intelligent way from start to finish it ought not to interfere to any great extent with the ordinary comforts of the day. The clothes were sorted and some of them put to soak the day before. That means a long stride toward an early completion.

The Order of the Wash.
One reason why there are so many inferior laundresses and so much inferior laundry work is because little or no attention has been given to difference in fabrics. Cotton, linen, silk and wool are practically treated in the same way. The same kind of soap is used for all. They are washed in water of the same temperature. Sometimes they are washed in the same water. They are given the same amount of rubbing and equally indifferent rinsing.

In sorting the clothes arrange them in five piles as follows:
Table linen and fine muslins.
Bed linen, towels and handkerchiefs (previously soaked in ammonia and water if used for a cold).
Flannels.
Colored cottons and stockings.
Soiled towels and cloths.

No one questions that soaking the clothes loosens the dirt and makes the washing easier, but only white clothes or fast colors can be treated in this way, and it is not well to soak all kinds of white clothes in one tub. After soaking in cold water to which a good naphtha soap or washing powder has been added little or no rubbing will be necessary before putting the clothes in the boiler. Kerosene used in small quantity in the cold water in which clothes are soaked makes the washing easier. The success of laundering also depends on the kind and amount of soap used. For wool and silk articles use only a good white soap containing very little alkali or acid. Both these chemicals have an injurious effect on silk and wool. Soda makes woolen garments yellow, makes the fiber harsh and less elastic. The fiber of wool is composed of numberless sections, or sheaths, each with more or less jagged edges and each one growing out of the other. These sheaths form a tube which, with its jagged edges, explains the reason for shrinking. Dilute acids roughen the wool fiber; strong acids disintegrate it. Chloride of lime injures the fiber even if cold; used hot, the fiber is destroyed. Ammonia has the least injurious action on wool, therefore is the most satisfactory agent for cleansing it.

Silk is a strong, elastic, lustrous double fiber. All alkalies act upon it, according to the kind, strength and temperature of the solution and the length of time the silk is left in the solution. The luster is first lessened, and the fiber is finally dissolved. Dilute acids roughen silk and strong acids ruin it. Thus it will be seen that all garments of silk and wool should be washed with only the mildest soap. This should be made into a solution by cutting the soap into thin slices, dissolving in hot water and adding to the suds in which the garments are to be washed. This method is much better than rubbing the soap directly on the garments. Both silk and wool are injured by dry heat. Silk first stiffens, then breaks, so that the water in which it is washed should not be hot. Flannels should be washed in water of the same temperature throughout the process and should be hung to dry in a temperature the same as the water. The expansion and contraction of the wool fibers, caused by change in temperatures, make flannel thick. Tepid water and a moderate temperature for drying and the best white soap added to the washing water are simple rules to observe in washing woolen garments.

The vegetable fibers, such as cotton and linen, are of a woody nature, tough, strong and not so easily affected by chemicals. For this reason cotton and linen materials are not so soon spoiled by careless washing as either silk or wool, and yet too much soap, prolonged boiling in dirty water, indifferent rinsing and inattention to stains soon make the best cotton or linen dingy and unattractive. One of the commonest neglects in ordinary washing is that the water is not changed often enough. Garment after garment is washed in water so saturated with dirt that it is impossible to make it remove any more. This washing is followed by careless rinsing in only one water, which does not begin to take out all the soap. If the bluing follows, as it too often does, this rinsing in soapy water, the clothes are very liable to be stained with iron rust. This will almost certainly be the case if Prussian blue is used. This substance is a salt of iron, and with an alkali such as there is in soap changes to iron rust. A simple experiment to determine whether or not you are using Prussian blue is to heat a little of it in a strong solution of soda. If Prussian blue the mixture will turn yellowish red, and iron rust will settle in the bottom of the vessel.

Simple General Directions.
It is more often neglect of little things than carelessness about big main points that makes washing an unsatisfactory task. Attention to these details may lighten the work for some women and bring them better results. Remember to make fresh suds whenever necessary. It is a mistake to think you can make clothes clean in dirty water.

Put the clothes to boil in cold water and heat slowly. The best results are obtained when there is a large quantity of water and the boiler is but half full of clothes. Each boilerful of clothes should be put on in clean, cold water.

Rinsing is very important. The clothes must be free from soap before bluing. Use soft water for first rinsing, then hard water if color of sort is not good.

Hard water may be softened by boiling, then cooling before using, or a solution of soda may be added. This ought not to be too strong or the soda will injure both the fabric and the hands.

In bluing shake out each article and drop it into the bluing water, rinse carefully through the water, then wring out at once. Do not allow clothes to stay in bluing water for any length of time or they will be streaked.

Thick starch is made by mixing one-half cup of laundry starch and one-quarter cup of cold water, then add one-quarter teaspoonful of white wax or lard and one quart of boiling water. Put over the fire and boil for several minutes, stirring constantly. Uncooked or partly cooked starch will stick. Thick starch may be diluted, or if a thin quality is desired use twice as much water.

Ironing is the completion of good laundry work and the test of the laundress. It requires a good thick ironing board tacked securely to an iron stand, a piece of beeswax tied in a cloth on which to clean the irons, a bit of old cloth on which to wipe them and a piece of paper folded several times on which to rest the irons. This is the necessary outfit, but in addition there must be practice, care and skill to insure complete success.

Depew's Great Speech.
"When I was a very young man," Senator Depew once related, "I went out to make a political speech with some other men one night. They wanted something red-hot, and I handed it out."

"I just turned myself to skin the opposition, and, on the whole, the audience seemed to like it. The more they cheered the more I warmed to it. I was immensely pleased with my success. But after I got home I was worried. I had roasted the other side awfully. I lay awake wondering if it wouldn't react and injure our side more than the opposition."

"Then I thought of some personal allusions I had made that night easily be construed as libelous. I got a good deal excited and slept very little. In the morning I hurried down to see whether the papers had roasted me. The meeting was reported all over the front page. I plunged into it, shivering in nervousness. But I needn't have worried. What it said about my speech was in the last two lines: 'A young man named Depew also spoke.'"
—New York Telegram.

Collecting an Old Debt.
The other day the manager of a furniture house in town asked one of his star salesmen to collect a bill of long standing, for which the regular collector had been unable to get cash. The manager told him to threaten a lawsuit if necessary. The salesman said he would collect it without that and went to the delinquent's office. He put the bill in the hand of his derby hat, as if with the hat he held nonchalantly in his left hand he stroled into the inner shrine. The man at the desk looked at him inquiringly and then glanced down at the conspicuous bill.

"Well, what is it?" he asked.
"Harden me," said the salesman in his best manner, "but could you tell me if Mr. Jones dead?"
"Why, no! I'm Mr. Jones."

"Thank you. That's all I wanted to know," said the salesman and walked abruptly from the room.
Next day a check came for the amount.—New York Sun.

Saving the Union.
Until we had a national game it was silly, according to Ellis Parker Butler in Success Magazine, to speak of the loose group of states as a nation. The people had too much time in which to talk politics, and whenever they talked politics they became angered, and whenever they were angered they wanted to secede or knock spots off each other. There was no one great unifying spirit. There was too much "Maryland, My Maryland" and "Yankee Doodle" and not any "Dixie at the Bat." All the animus was now directed at the empire city, was allowed to ferment into sectional feeling. A man from Baltimore and a man from Boston could not meet and talk in curves; they had to talk in faces. Imagine the benighted state of society! It is a wonder that the nation lasted until baseball arose in its might and strength to make of us one great people!

When Finished.
Busy persons, forced to defend themselves from interminable talkers who have little to say, can appreciate a hint to which Henry IV, of France once resorted. A parliamentary deputy called upon him and made a long speech. The king listened patiently for a time, then he decided that his visitor would do well to condense his remarks. He took him by the hand and led him to where they could see the gallery of the Louvre.

"What do you think of that building?" When it is finished it will be a good thing, will it not?"
"Yes," replied the man of many words, not guessing what was coming next.
"Well, monsieur, that is just the way with your discourse," was the king's mild observation.

Peculiarities of the Opossum.
The American opossum is one of the most curious animals living in the United States. It is the only one that carries its young in a pouch like the kangaroo. It is the only animal that can feign death perfectly. It is remarkable for hanging by its tail like a monkey. It has hands resembling those of a human being. Its snout is like a hog's, while its mouth is liberally furnished with teeth. Its eyes are like a rat's, and it moves like a snake.

Little by Little.
The Young Wife (showing her furniture)—Here's the rocking chair for the parlor. Isn't it just lovely? Mrs. Oldy (rather critically)—But I don't see any rockers, dear. The Young Wife—Oh, they'll be here next month. You see, we are buying the chair on the installment plan, and we haven't paid for the rockers yet!—San Francisco Chronicle.

Westminster Abbey.
The full legal title of Westminster abbey is "the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, Westminster." Very few people have heard the name as a burial place so designated. A collegiate church is one that is administered by a "college" of priests instead of an individual rector or vicar.—Westminster Gazette.

Another Way.
"Why don't you throw away this old junk? It is of no use to any one."
"But that would make me feel wasteful."
"Then give it away and feel charitable."—Washington Her. Aid.

Exercise is the chief source of improvement in all our faculties.—Blair.

A Judicial Favor.
A verdant local reporter whose propensities incline to daring rather than to judgment and whose ardency in the quest of news is one of his marked characteristics approached a judge of the United States district court and solicited a little advance information on a case in progress in the judge's court.

"You see, judge," said the youngster to the astonished jurist, "we go to press in a few moments, and we all know your inclination to do a newspaper man a favor."

The venerable man eyed the youth sternly and said slowly and emphatically:
"Yes, young man, I'll do you a favor this time, and you will see that you don't ask me again."
"That's fine, your honor. Thanks, very much. Just a few lines will do."
"I will do you this favor. I shall not send you to jail this time, but if you ever approach me again with such a question your friends will not see you for some time."

The discomfited reporter retired, ruminating on the mysteries of the law and the dignities pertaining to the judiciary.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Exclusiveness of Caste.
An English officer who some years ago was wounded in a battle in India and left lying all night among the native dead and wounded tells this story: "Next morning we spied a man and an old woman, who came to us with a basket and a pot of water, and to every wounded man she gave a piece of joaze bread from the basket and a drink from her water pot. To us she gave the same, and I thanked heaven and her. But the Soobahdar was a high caste Rajput, and, as this woman was a Chumar, or of the lowest caste, he would receive neither water nor bread from her. I tried to persuade him to take it that he might live, but he said that in our state, with but a few hours more to linger, what was a little more or less suffering to us—why should he give up his fate for such an object? No; he preferred to die unpolluted."

The Origin of Oxygen.
That eminent scientist Lord Kelvin maintained that all the oxygen in the atmosphere probably originated from the action of sunlight upon plants. When our earth was a globe of hot liquid it contained no vegetable fuel and probably no free oxygen. But as it cooled off plants appeared on its surface, and these began to evolve oxygen through the medium of the sunbeams. Upon the oxygen thus derived we depend for the maintenance of life by breathing. When we burn coal or other vegetable fuel we use up oxygen, and it is to plants again that we owe the restoration of the oxygen thus lost to the air. If they failed to keep up a sufficient supply the atmosphere would gradually part with its oxygen, and the inhabitants of the earth would disappear in consequence of asphyxiation.

In Westminster Abbey.
Fox's tomb is perhaps the most ridiculous in the abbey, but others run it hard—the naked figure of General Wolfe supported by one of his staff in full regimentals and receiving a crown from Victory; William Wilberforce apparently listening to Sheridan telling a comic tale and contorting his features in the endeavor not to laugh; the Sir Cloudesley Shovel, in periwig and Roman toga, which excited the mirth even of contemporaries, and all the monuments erected by the East India company, with palm trees and other tropical exuberances, to the memory of great soldiers, like Sir Eyre Coote. From the point of view of good taste a dictator would be justified in dismissing these and many more to the stonemason's yard.—Cornhill Magazine.

How Pausanias Died.
Pausanias, the Greek general, died by self-administered poison. When hotly pursued by those sent to apprehend him on a charge of treason and sacrilege he took refuge in the sanctuary of a temple. Unable to remove him by force and also unwilling to violate the sanctuary, the officers waited up the entrance and began to surround the building. When he could be seen they noticed that he was chewing something which proved to be a quill filled with poison. By the time the work had sufficiently advanced to admit of their entrance he was in a dying condition.

Secret For Secret.
In the days of Louis XIV. even warriors banded epigrams with one another.
The Marechal de Grammont had taken a fortress by siege.
"I will tell you a secret," said its military governor after surrendering. "The reason of my capitulation was that I had no more powder."
"And, secret for secret," returned the marechal snarling, "the reason of my accepting it on such easy terms was that I had no more balls."

Not So Absurd.
"How absurd!"
"What's absurd?"
"Five years are supposed to have elapsed since the last act, and that man is wearing the same overcoat."
"Nothin' absurd about that. 'He's takin' the part of a married man, I ain't he?'"

At the present time petroleum is being produced in California at the rate of 7,000,000 barrels per month. Of this amount 5,500,000 barrels are consumed, leaving a surplus of 1,500,000 barrels monthly. Several million barrels of oil now are in storage in this state.

As all of the pipe lines, save that of the Standard Oil company, are taxed to the limit of their capacity in caring for the enormous production of the Lakeview and other gushers that have come in during the past few months, there is reason for the alarm that is felt by producers operating in the vicinity of the Lakeview.

SLEEPING IN THE OPEN AIR.

"Directions for living and sleeping in the open air" is the title of a pamphlet being sent out today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis to its local representatives in all parts of the United States.

The pamphlet is meant to be a handbook of information for anybody who desires to sleep out of doors in his own home. It emphasizes the fact that outdoor sleeping is as desirable for the well as for the sick. The booklet will be sent free of charge to anyone applying for it at the headquarters of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in New York, or to the secretary of any local or state anti-tuberculosis association.

Some of the subjects of which the pamphlet treats are, how to take the open-air treatment in a tenement house; how to build a small shack or cabin on a flat roof in the city; how to make one comfortable while sleeping outdoors either in hot or cold weather; how to arrange a porch on a country house; and how to build a cheap porch; the construction of tents and tent-houses; the kinds of beds and bedding to use in outdoor sleeping; and various other topics. The book is well illustrated and attractively prepared.

IT IS WONDERFUL HOW MUCH SATISFACTION CAN BE OBTAINED FROM A TALK OVER THE BELL TELEPHONE

A letter carries words, but the Bell Service has been brought up to such a point of perfection that the modulations of the voice are clearly heard. The cheery tones show that the talker is well and in good spirits. The call may come from a suburban village or a distant city, but within the limits of the carrying power of the voice the Bell Service carries the tone as well. You get a personal interview with a friend hundreds of miles away.

ladies from Pecatguica, Ill., arrived in Glendale Thursday of last week and are stopping with uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Benson on Eagle Rock road. They will probably spend the summer in Southern California.

Rev. T. W. Williams will deliver his lecture entitled "The Bitter Cry of the Children," July 12th at the K. P. hall.

Being unable to come as previously announced, George N. Downing filled his appointment. This lecture drew a crowded house.

T. W. Doyle left last Monday for Antelope valley expecting to be gone some time getting his ranch under cultivation. He has a fine well of water (artesian) and intends to build a small house and make other improvements. H will be joined later by Mr. John Doyle who will spend part of his vacation clearing sage brush.

Miss Mary Doyle is spending her vacation with a party of Covina friends in the Yosemite valley.

Mrs. Ida C. Beardsley, who with her husband and son occupied for some months the home on Fifth street which they bought of Mr. Ogg, died at her home in Los Angeles Saturday the second of July of heart disease. Her physician had warned her of the possibility of a fatal attack at any time, although otherwise she had no serious ailment. Funeral services were held at the residence on Monday afternoon. Dr. S. Lawrence Ward of the Glendale Presbyterian church officiating and music was furnished by Glendale friends. Interment at Forest Lawn cemetery.

A party of about twenty-five persons among whom were Mr. Menzo Williams, Miss Nellie Williams, Mr. H. W. Peterson, Mr. H. Blue, Mr. John R. White, Jr., and Mr. C. O. Pulliam, went on a special car last Saturday night to Oro Grande in San Bernardino county to look at a large tract of desert land of that place. They remained in the car over night and on Sunday were furnished with vehicles and drove about twelve miles west to the eastern slope of Baldy where the land is situated at an elevation of about 1500 feet. The party constitute a portion of the stockholders in a company which will develop water and if the supply gives sufficient assurance of an abundance for irrigating will enter claims under the desert land act and reclaim a very large acreage. They returned home Monday morning.

One of the best features of the annual report of the California Development Board, which has just been issued, is the map of California, covering all railroad additions and extensions to date, together with changes in county boundaries, making the most complete and comprehensive publication of the kind in existence. The map is twenty by twenty-six inches, and in addition to railroad and steamship lines, it shows the topography of the state in colors. On the border is a comprehensive list of industrial products, together with the counties in which each is to be found. The board makes a special feature of its maps, and in addition to a rack containing official county maps, it has a number of relief maps of the state and various districts. These show mountain and valley regions in such manner as to impress them indelibly on the minds of observers. The report with a copy of the map may be had free on application to the board at its headquarters in the Ferry building, San Francisco.

BACK FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

Dr. Chase and City Clerk Woodberry Return.

Dr. R. E. Chase and Mr. G. B. Woodberry returned from a two weeks' trip on Tuesday last, during which time they explored the redwood forests of Tulare county and caught nearly all the trout that before their advent made the straits of that section their habitat. The travelers went from Glendale by rail to Porterville, from thence by stage and pack train about twenty miles or more into the mountains eastward. In one of their jaunts to the head waters of the Tule river they crossed the ridge at an elevation of 6000 feet. The fishing was good, at least they report that they were successful on trout and they brought back a few specimens of the dried variety to their friends to prove their assertions. The dried specimens were found running wild in one of the canyons on the government reservation. This section is mostly a government reserve covered with fine redwood trees. There is a noticeable absence of the cattle and herds of sheep which roamed all over the mountains before the government took charge of them, and the result is that there was an abundance of horse feed found. Returning homeward the great old gusher west of Bakersfield was visited and proved well water seeping. This well continues to yield as it has since it was opened three months ago, an output of from 40,000 to 50,000 barrels of oil daily. It is located in the foothills at a slight elevation above the valley and nearby and above Buena Vista lake which is the property of Miller & Lux, the great San Joaquin valley land monopolists. Mr. Miller has served notice upon the owners of the "gusher" that he will hold them legally responsible to the extent of a million dollars or so, for damages should the oil get into the lake.

As a result, partly to avoid litigation and because of a natural desire to get the most out of their bonanza of oil, the owners of the well are using every possible effort to dispose of and store the oil that runs out of the well in a stream faster than it can be carried away by an eight-inch pipe line to Port Harford and by the railroad which runs out trainloads of oil daily. An army of men is employed every minute of the twenty-four hours building reservoirs and protecting and strengthening those that are in use. It is said that the cost to the company for controlling the flow of this well up to June 1st—for less than three months of its existence—was $181,000. Around the well a reservoir of earth lined with sand bags has been constructed. The pressure of several feet of oil prevents the stream from shooting directly up into the air as it did at first, but every now and again a geyser breaks forth and the oil is shot up forty feet or so descending in a shower that drenches everything in the vicinity. The string of reservoirs is gradually pushing down hill toward the lake and unless Providence interposes and shuts off at least a portion of the tremendous quantity of oil that is being belched forth by Mother Earth, there is no knowing what the result will be. Work on other wells in the vicinity has been stopped because of the actual fear on the part of the projectors that they also may strike an uncontrollable gusher. The country round about is perfectly desolate and the heat is intense. On a day recently the mercury registered 120 degrees in the shade. All the water in use at the well is brought from Bakersfield, forty miles distant. One of the greatest difficulties that confront the owners is the impossibility of keeping men to do the necessary work. The wages paid are good but the weather and other conditions are almost intolerable, so that men remain only a few days.

The many friends of Mr. Will Blaine are pained to learn that he is very low at the hospital in Los Angeles as the result of an operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Blaine is at his bedside. (Mr. Blaine died at 9 p. m. Wednesday.)

Installation of Officers

On Friday evening, July 1st, the Philathen's and Baracca's of the Tropico Presbyterian church had their installation, the following officers were installed:

Philathen—Miss Harriet Meyers, teacher; Elise Vance, president; Lillian Eaton, vice-president; Mary Matheson, secretary; Kathryn Hobbs, treasurer.

Baraccas—Mr. E. Ayers, teacher; Hubert Harrison, president; Merrill Blaine, vice-president; Dwight Stephenson, secretary; Edward Horte, treasurer.

After the installation Miss Elise Vance, the new president, rendered a musical program, after which all were ushered to the banquet room, where tables were set in banquet style, and a three course menu served. Toasts were called for and responded to by Hubert Harrison, a toast for the girls and Alma Stone, a toast for the boys. Toastmaster Dwight Stephenson then called for short toasts from all, which was responded to as the names were called. At a late hour "Home, Sweet Home" was beautifully rendered by Miss Elise Vance and all departed for home declaring a most enjoyable evening.

MRS. MARTHA MCCLURE TO BE RETAINED.

After considerable wrangling, circulating of petitions, etc., it has finally been decided that Mrs. Martha McClure will be retained as principal of the Tropico grammar school for the coming school term.

During the past few weeks there has been an undercurrent of disagreeable feeling circulating around the streets and in the homes of Tropico, concerning the principalship of the Tropico school next year. It was started when a teacher of a Glendale grammar school came down and tried to oust Mrs. McClure from her place. She would probably have been successful in her attempt had it not been for the women of this place making most strenuous objections. At the very outset of the wrangle, which started several weeks before the close of school, several ladies living on the east side of Tropico, on hearing of the movement, on foot to remove Mrs. McClure, quietly started petitions and succeeded in getting the signatures of at least nine-tenths of the ladies of Tropico. This occurred just after the election of the new board of trustees.

The petitions were presented to the new board, which at that time was holding out two to one in favor of the new principal. When shown the list of names one of the men who were in favor of the change, stated that if the signatures of two-thirds of the voters could be obtained he would decide that it was the wish of the people that Mrs. McClure should be retained. At once the new petitions were started, this time most of the work being done by the men of the town, and within a very short time more than the required number of names were gathered, and last Monday evening this new petition was presented to this "willing to be shown" trustee, and he at once decided in favor of Mrs. McClure, informing her at once of her good fortune, and later making the other teacher who was fighting for the place, acquainted with the fact that all fighting on her part hereafter would be useless.

WEST GLENDALE

Richard Stine left for Acton about two weeks ago where he is employed in the mines.

Mrs. Chas. Brockman of Los Angeles spent Thursday of last week with Mrs. J. O. Elliott.

Mrs. M. C. MacLennan of Berkeley is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. Gilman Taylor of West First street.

Mrs. J. L. Russ, 1229 Milford street, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Andy Swannfeldt and little son of Los Angeles on Friday last.

The following people enjoyed the Fourth at Venice: Mr. and Mrs. Page and children, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and several other families.

Mildred Elliott has been confined to the house for the past week or two, but Dr. Thompson, the attending physician is in hopes she will soon be well.

The glorious Fourth has come and gone, and all the children in the neighborhood are still all in one piece and are looking forward to the next fireworks day.

Great improvements are noticeable on Vine street where the people have got together and cleaned up the sidewalks and street nearly all the way from Central avenue to San Fernando road. It is a good work that should have many imitators.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stine had as their houseguest for two weeks their cousin Miss Dula Goldsmith. They also entertained on Monday last at their new home at Hermosa Beach. Covers were laid for fifteen and a most enjoyable time was had.

Little Keith Tatlow, son of J. Fletcher Tatlow of Oak street, who was brought home last week in such a serious condition, is slowly improving and his parents and friends sincerely hope that the little fellow will gain rapidly in this delightful climate, and will soon be his own self again.

Little Johnnie Nelheus begs to inform his friends that he has been at 1446 Ivy street since Saturday, June 26. He weighed 10 pounds when he came to Glendale and has been holding his own ever since. Little John's papa is principal of the high school at Leeds, Dakota, and is expected to arrive in Glendale any day.

On Friday last the friends and neighbors of Mrs. C. E. Clay, tendered her a surprise party complimentary to her departure for her old home in Provo, Utah. A genuine good social time was had, ice cream and cake and other dainty refreshments were furnished. Those present were Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Klein, Mrs. Cheney, Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Penhollow, Mrs. Page, Mrs. Gallagher. A splendid photo of the group was taken by Mrs. Cheney and the next day was presented to Mrs. Clay as a memento of the afternoon.

CONSOLIDATION MEETING.

Remember the mass meeting at G. A. R. hall next Thursday evening to discuss the "Greater Glendale" question. Everybody in this vicinity is interested and the attendance should be large.

HON. GIDEON S. CASE

This gentleman is a candidate for representative in the assembly of the state, and his name will be placed before the voters of the Republican party at the primary election to be held August 16th next, from the district embracing the city of Pasadena, of which city he is a resident.

Dr. Case was born at Chaslin Falls, Ohio, June 13th, 1847. In 1853 the family removed to Michigan, but he was sent to Wellington, Ohio, in 1860, on the death of his mother, where he lived with an uncle until 1862 when he enlisted in the 105th regiment of Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served with it till January, 1863, when he was transferred to the Mississippi Marine Brigade, with which he remained till January 1st, 1865. He was wounded in the battle of Perryville in Kentucky, and participated in the siege of Vicksburg. He was among the very youngest soldiers on the Union side in the Civil war.

On his discharge from the military service he returned to Michigan. He had been educated in the public schools of the two states named. In addition he attended the Olds Academy in Lansing and the University of Michigan, from which he graduated from the medical department. Dr. Case by work on the farm and in other ways supported himself in obtaining his education, receiving no assistance from any one. He practiced his profession successfully in Michigan till 1892, when on account of ill health in his family, he removed to California, settled in Pasadena, where he has since resided.

Dr. Case has led a home and family life, is a man of moral habits, an estimable citizen, interested in all good work, a man of strong physical and mental powers, democratic and genial in his intercourse with his fellowmen, possesses large intelligence on public questions, has proved his patriotism and he is an earnest American and devoted to the maintenance and improvement of American institutions. He takes active part in the affairs of the Grand Army of the Republic and has held high positions in the organization. Politically he has always affiliated with the Republican party.

Dr. Case served one term in the lower branch of the California legislature where he performed faithful and efficient service, and received commendation from the two Republican newspapers of Pasadena for his independence and freedom from boss rule. In fact, the Sacramento Bee placed the name of Dr. Case in a list of twelve assemblymen who were not dominated by "boss rule and Southern Pacific orders."

Dr. Case's views are in accord with the progressive spirit of the times, would perhaps advance somewhat more cautiously than some others in order that nothing hastily or without thorough consideration may be done that would result in injustice to any class or interest. He would legislate so as to effectually protect the people from corporate or abuses from any other source. His motives are of the best and he has the courage to stand by his convictions. He has the elements of mind and heart that contribute to the making of a good and desirable public servant, and he is possessed of more than ordinary working power. The people under the present method of selecting candidates are expected to take measures for gaining knowledge of the men who seek their favor. Dr. Case certainly deserves to receive their consideration and an expression of their best judgment. That is all he asks, and to their decision he will submit in good spirit. Vox populi et vox dei.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION NO. 353.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO IMPROVE A PORTION OF FOURTH STREET.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:

Section 1. That the public interest and convenience require, and it is the intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, to order the following street work to be done in said city, to-wit:

First: That that portion of Fourth street from the East line of Adams street to the West line of Verdugo Road be graded, oiled and tamped in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the City Engineer of the City of Glendale and specifications for grading and oiling and tamping of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 1.

Second: That a cement curb be constructed along each line of the roadway of said Fourth street from the East line of Adams street to the West line of Verdugo Road, including returns at all street intersections (excepting along such lines of said roadway along which a cement curb has already been constructed to the official line and grade).
